THE ARCHIVES

Home of the Birmingham Forensic Science Service for more than 40 years Priory House is a 77,000 sq ft landmark mid-century building located on Gooch Street North within the cultural hub of Birmingham's Southside district. It will be brought back to life by a bold regeneration scheme that will reflect the relationship between the aesthetics of its industrial past and modern warehouse loft living.

"Priory House is a building of historical significance that will play a key role in the wider regeneration of the Southside area."

A FORENSIC APPROACH

At Priory House the forensic influence goes beyond the mere visible. The vision is to take inspiration from the scientists sense of curiosity and spirit of adventure, and blend it with a mid century form and modern utility, to create the most exceptional development south of the city. The proposed scheme will retain and restore the facade including original external signage while creating 79 lofts and duplex living spaces over 7 floors that are both sensitive to its past, and sympathetic to the wider neighbourhood of Southside.

Existing PH facade

The retention of the existing building facades and window openings set out the rhythm of the elevations and inform the new build elements. These details are key to ensuring the character of the original building lives on.

THE GEOGRAPHY

Priory House is an opportunity to create a truly transformational development that will drive forward Southside's regeneration and reputation. All the ingredients are there. It will be able to capitalise on the rich history of the area; proximity to the major retail districts, the arts and creative quarter, the knowledge hub and the future city centre terminus for HS2, which will halve the travel time to London to 45 minutes.

The neighbouring £500 million Smithfield Masterplan will be a key part of this evolving growth story, creating new retail markets, exciting family leisure, cultural buildings, homes and public squares that will leave a lasting legacy and place Southside at the heart of the city's renaissance.

SOUTHSIDE REGENERATION

Neighbouring Southside, Curzon Street Station will be at the heart of the high speed rail network. This new HS2 Interchange Station and rail line will provide national and local benefits including increased employment, economic growth and faster connections to London, Europe, and all the UK's major business regions.

THE MASTERPLAN

The design of Priory House will reflect the modernist traditions of the period with obsessive detailing to achieve the best possible residential experience and create a building worthy of its heritage. The existing layout, structure and industrial characteristics lends itself well to residential accommodation. Embracing a simple open plan living aesthetic will provide a mix of 1 and 2 bed lofts, along with 5 west facing duplexes located on the ground level on Gooch Street North. A 1,400 sq ft penthouse fittingly completes the accommodation. A contemporary choreographed balance of style, form and function.

Vision

Outside In

Designed for living, Priory House includes a private walled courtyard garden that will provide a soft landscaped outdoor space for all residents to enjoy some down time. 18 properties benefit from balconies overlooking these external amenities, whilst 4 have their own ground floor terraces and another a 'winter garden'.

At basement level you will find more added convenience with an allocation of residents' parking, a number of car charging points and cycle bays for those wishing to pursue a sustainable lifestyle.

LIVING PROOF

The living spaces at Priory House are drawn from history, combining mid century modernism with Elevate's signature design style. The industrial aesthetics of natural materials, brick, metalwork, and glass will be incorporated to stunning effect. Floor to ceiling windows maximise natural light and add to the sense of space. Whether your tastes lean towards modernist furniture or classic vinyl, this is the perfect place to recharge or immerse yourself in Southside's vibrant social scene.

THE EVIDENCE

Priory House is situated in one of Birmingham’s most vibrant and diverse scenes: the Southside District. Birmingham’s beating cultural heart, embracing Chinatown, theatreland and the LGBT Quarter it’s an area as inviting and individual as its residents. Superbly located for apartment living the area is currently being transformed into the new ‘front door’ of Birmingham’s City Centre by the £8.7m Enterprise Zone Investment Plan (EZIP). The vision for Priory House is to create a place for people at the epicentre of this vibrant melting pot.

“What began as a few entrepreneurs developing Ladywell Walk and Hurst Street into a cultural hub, has grown into one of the largest Chinese business regions and LGBT communities in the UK with a diverse and unique nature that we truly believe can’t be found elsewhere”

Art, Design & Culture

Southside's a cosmopolitan place, it's full of strong identities. Not only is it home to the busy eateries lining the alleyways of Chinatown, it's also a place where highbrow culture sits comfortably alongside the edgy and urban, where Victorian warehouses and outdoor food markets neighbour celebrated shopping destinations, the Bullring and Mailbox. There are arts and media centres including Millennium Point and the Custard Factory, as well as homewares stores bringing the best of European design to your doorstep.

Work

Once famed for its industrial power, Birmingham is successfully becoming one of the fastest-growing cities in the country. It's a city driven by an evolving finance economy and one of the largest investments in infrastructure for a generation. With a large graduation population to choose from, global businesses (Royal Bank of Scotland, HSBC, PWC) already call it home whilst many start ups are taking their first steps out in Digbeth, Southside's neighbouring Creative Quarter. With remote working becoming the norm there's an abundance of well designed flexible spaces to support your work life.

Life

No two days in Southside are ever the same. Constantly growing, fiercely creative, a community of vibrant businesses and positive people. Southside proudly comes alive at night, food to satisfy every craving, cultural masterpieces at The Hippodrome, independents like no other. Every history laden corner you turn, there's something new waiting for you. Just a stone's throw away is Digbeth, awash with arts and music venues, galleries and independent outlets, this area is full of the industrious and individual - you'll find things in Digbeth that you won't find anywhere else.
